The Soprano's Season Six Part 2 The personal and professional adventures of Tony Soprano (James Gandolfini) continue in this sixth, and final, season of episodes. As the show builds to its climax, Tony finds his life in danger as Phil Leotardo (Frank Vincent) assumes control of the Mafia following the death of Johnny Sack (Vince Curatola). As the tension escalates even Tony's faithful henchmen, Christopher (Michael Imperioli), Paulie (Tony Sirico), and Silvio (Steve Van Zandt) find their lives in danger. Meanwhile, the various story arcs concerning Tony's family--Anthony Jr. (Robert Iler), Meadow (Jamie Lynn Sigler), and Carmela (Edie Falco)--all build towards the show's controversial ending. As always, the ever-reliable Dr. Melfi (Lorraine Bracco) is on hand to beat off Tony's advances and steady his nerves through her therapy sessions. The final set of episodes from season six of the show are included here. Disc 1 includes the following episodes: "Soprano Home Movies" and "Stage 5." Additional Actors: Dania Ramirez, David Margulies, Arthur J. Nascarella, Stephanie Szostak, Vincent Piazza, Sandra Santiago, Robert LuPone, Dominic Chianese Jr., Armen Garo, Christian Laurin, Philippe Bergeron, John Bianco, Peter Bogdanovich, Cara Buono, Matt Servitto, Jerry Adler, Tony Darrow, Tony Lip, Michael Kelly, Jonathan LaPaglia, Christopher McDonald, Daniel Baldwin, Sydney Pollack, Geraldo Rivera, Tim Daly. Nascarella, Suzanne Shepherd, Tom Aldredge, Matthew Del Negro, Carl Capotorto, Donnie Keshawarz, Mason Pettit, Carlos Morales, Lanette Ware, Geoffrey Cantor, Elizabeth Bracco, Brandon Hannan, Heidi Dippold, Nancy Sinatra, Southside Johnny. Disc 3 includes the following episodes: "Walk Like a Man," "Kennedy and Heidi" and "The Second Coming." Additional Actors: Richard Little, Dania Ramirez, Frank Santorelli, John O'Hara, Tim Daly, Marianne Leone, William DeMeo, Dennis Paladino, Max Casella, Elizabeth Bracco, Jonathan LaPaglia, Cara Buono, Julianna Margulies, Peter Bogdanovich, Donnie Keshawarz, Taleb Adlah, Dominic Chianese Jr., Felix Solis, Daniel Sauli, Armen Garo, Greg Antonacci. Disc 4 includes the following episodes: "The Blue Comet" and "Made in America." Additional Actors: Peter Bogdanovich, Frank John Hughes, Matt Servitto, Arthur J. Nascarella, Jeffrey M. Marchetti, Henry Glovinsky, Mimi Lieber, Greg Antonacci, Edoardo Gero, Artie Pasquale, Lenny Venito, Aleks Shaklin, Ricky Aiello, Max Casella, Henry O'Neill, Sharrieff Pugh, Donna Pescow, Jenna Stern, Michael Kelly, Daniel Sauli, Geraldine LiBrandi. HBO

D.L. Hughley Unapologetic D.L. Hughley proved he was unapologetic when he threw his own provocative remarks into the already fiery debate over Don Imus and the Rutgers University women's basketball team. That's why the title of his first HBO special is especially fitting. Weighing in on a variety of hot topics, from the current political climate to the life and death of Anna Nicole Smith, he never fails to hit a nerve with his brand of in-your-face comedy. HBO

The Reaping In this thriller a college professor who refutes mysteries and so-called miracles with scientific evidence. When science teacher Doug Blackwell (David Morrissey) invites Katherine and her former teaching assistant/current colleague, Ben (Idris Elba), to his hometown of Haven, Louisiana, to investigate a river whose water has turned blood-red following the mysterious death of a local boy, the cynical professor is forced to find her own faith. The river of blood is just the first in a series of strange occurrences in Haven. It seems that each of the 10 plagues from Exodus is being manifested, in order. The citizens of this Bible Belt town are convinced that 12-year-old Loren McConnell (AnnaSophia Robb) is responsible for her brother's death and for the strange events. Soon, Katherine finds herself questioning everything as memories from her past suddenly infiltrate the present in her search for the truth. The Deep South setting is both beautiful and creepy--particularly Doug's classic antebellum mansion, and the swamps where the McConnell family lives. Swank is reliably solid as Katherine, a woman of faith who lost everything important to her and turned to science for answers. Young AnnaSophia Robb, a young actress to watch, has a captivating screen presence. Brits David Morrissey and Idris Elba round out the main characters, with Morrissey a convincing Southern gentleman and Elba a man who overcame his tough life on the streets to become a professor. Stephen Rea also appears as Father Costigan, a link to Katherine's sad past. Warner

Jim Norton: Monster Rain Comedian Jim Norton pushes every envelope and crosses every line with his trademark brand of over-the-top humor. In this HBO special from Washington, D.C.'s Lincoln Theatre, the "Opie and Anthony" co-host tackles celebrities, dating and prostitutes. Norton artfully infuses his hilarious material with just enough edgy truth to make audiences squirm even as they laugh. HBO

Unforgiven 2007 Featuring the best of all three WWE brands, Unforgiven 2007 boasts the superstars of Raw, Smackdown and ECW in punishing bouts that would make lesser competitors beg for mercy. John Cena takes on Randy Orton for the championship, while the Great Khali and Rey Mysterio duke it out for the heavyweight title. Other action includes Undertaker returns to reap vengeance on Mark Henry, the women's championship match and a tag team brawl and more. Genius/WWE

Roseanne Season 9 In its ninth and final season, Roseanne hits delightfully surreal territory when the Connor family wins the lottery. The once struggling, working-class family must suddenly deal with its newfound wealth, resulting in wonderfully odd moments that include Roseanne and Jackie battling terrorists, attending snobby cocktail parties in New York City, and mingling with celebrities like Robin Leach, Tammy Faye Baker, Steven Seagal, Arianna Huffington, and James Brolin. Nevertheless, the groundbreaking sitcom maintains much of the family drama--including a traumatic rift with Dan, and the delivery of Darlene's baby--that made the show so successful, climaxing in a moving ending episode that explains it all. Disc 1 includes the following episodes: "Call Waiting," "Millions from Heaven," "What a Day for a Daydream," "Honor Thy Mother," "Someday My Prince Will Come," "Pampered to a Pulp" and "Satan, Darling." Additional Actors: Cole Roberts, Morgan Roberts, Edward Asner, Jon Polito, Robin Leach, Hugh Hefner, Jerry Springer, James Pickens Jr., Jim Varney, Moon Unit Zappa, Ahmet Zappa, Tammy Faye Bakker, JM J. Bullock, Marlo Thomas, Mo'Nique, Arianna Huffington. Disc 2 includes the following episodes: "Hoi Polloi Meets Hoiti Toiti," "Roseambo," "Home Is Where the Afghan Is," "Mothers and Other Strangers," "Home for the Holidays" and "Say It Ain't So." Additional Actors: Dina Merrill, Iqbal Theba, Lawrence-Hilton Jacobs, Jim Varney, Shelley Winters, Fred Willard, Biff Wiff, Mother Love. Disc 3 includes the following episodes: "Hit the Road Jack," "The War Room," "Lanford's Elite," "Some Enchanted Merger," "A Second Chance" and "The Miracle." Additional Actors: Cole Roberts, Heather Matarazzo, Sandra Bernhard, James Brolin, Dann Florek, Michael Des Barres. Disc 4 includes the following episodes: "Roseanne-Feld," "The Truth Be Told," "Arsenic and Old Mom," "Into That Good Night (Part 1)" and "Into That Good Night (Part 2)." Additional Actors: Fred Willard, Heather Matarazzo, Cole Roberts, Bob Einstein, Johnny Dark, Ruta Lee, Debbie Reynolds, Sandra Bernhard. Anchor Bay

MGM Holiday Collection: The Bishop's Wife This Christmastime angelic intervention sparkles with good humor. Dudley the angel (Cary Grant) is sent to help a bishop (David Niven) and his wife (Loretta Young) survive their attempt to finance a new cathedral and the strain it's putting on their marriage. The Bishop's Wife includes complex undercurrents, especially when the bishop sees Dudley as a rival for his job and his wife., March of the Wooden Soldiers The meanest man in town, Silas Barnaby (Henry Kleinbach [aka Brandon]) threatens to kick Widow Peep out of her shoe unless her daughter, Bo-Peep, agrees to marry him. But Bo-Peep loves Tom-Tom, the piper's son, so it's up to Stannie Dum and Ollie Dee to come to the rescue, with the life-size wooden soldiers they mistakenly made in the toy factory., Pocketful of Miracles In Frank Capra's final directing effort, bag lady Apple Annie (Bette Davis) convinces her long-absent daughter (Ann-Margret) that she's a wealthy socialite. The daughter, who grew up in Europe, plans a trip with her aristocratic fiancée and his family to visit Annie. Into the middle of this crisis steps small-time gangster Dave the Dude (Glenn Ford), his girlfriend (Hope Lange) and his henchmen, all of whom transform Annie into Lady Manville. MGM

Care Bears Oopsy Does It In this feature-length animated film created for the Care Bears' 25th anniversary, the cuddly residents of Care-A-Lot are building a theme park called Woo-Hoo World -- but the accident-prone Oopsy is ruining everything! Things only get worse when a curmudgeonly bear named Grizzle and his robotic sidekick, Wingnut, decide to use Oopsy to do their dirty work as part of a plot to build an evil new "ride" called the CareTaker. Fox

Mr. Brooks Kevin Costner stars as Earl Brooks, a man whose seemingly perfect family and status in the community hide an ugly secret. Brooks constantly says the plea of an addict--the Serenity Prayer--but he's not in the grip of drugs or alcohol. Instead, his neat little bow tie belies a man with an urge to kill. Though he's staved off that desire for two years, it has returned thanks to the efforts of his evil inner voice (William Hurt). He is caught in the act by a man who calls himself Mr. Smith (Dane Cook), but Mr. Smith doesn't want to turn Brooks in. The smarmy amateur photographer wants to learn from Brooks's methodical ways and become a killer himself. Meanwhile, a tough cop (Demi Moore) hunts for the man responsible for deaths all over Portland while she deals with issues in her own life. Mr. Brooks presents a fascinating portrait of a man at war with himself. As the devil on Brooks's shoulder, Oscar winner Hurt adeptly alternates between menace and glee, adding to a resume already replete with varied roles. Though Costner is mostly known for playing nice guys (Field Of Dreams) and charming rogues (Bull Durham), his performance as the tortured killer is interesting to watch, and he rises to the challenge of playing a completely different character than the kind he is known for. Mr. Brooks is an engaging thriller that goes into the fractured mind of a murderer, while also delivering an intriguing maze of multiple subplots. Fox

Cycles Of Madness Greg Sovek Cycles of Madness is, "The Best movie on 2 Wheels!" Produced by bike lovers for bike lovers and jam packed with everything you can image and more!

Little People Big World This reality show from The Learning Channel captures the everyday challenges faced by the Rolloffs, a family composed of both little- and average-sized people. Though parents Matt and Amy Roloff, both dwarves, have their hands full operating their sprawling Oregon farm, that doesn't prevent them from engaging in a rich family life, raising four children of varying statures. Included here are all 20 episodes of the first season. Disc 1 includes the following episodes: "Living Little," "Twins?," "Our Little Anniversary," "Fathers and Sons," "Birthday Girls," "Back to School," "Testing Zach" and "One Farm, Two Dreams." Little People, Big World: Disc 2 includes the following episodes: "Growing Up," "Treb-U-What?," "Merry Little Christmas," "New Year, New Plan," "Zach's Future," "Try, Try Again," "Running with the Pack" and "Calm and Chaos." Disc 3 includes the following episodes: "Zach's Emergency," "Matt's Big Change," "First Date" and "Little Kitchen, Big Future." The bonus episodes "Of Moles and Men" and "Halloween Harvest" are also included along with a "Walk Tall Promo" spot and "Season 1 Trailer." Genius

Fox Horror Classics: The Lodger Though well-aware of the Jack the Ripper slayings, Robert and Ellen Burton (Cedric Hardwicke and Sara Allgood) take in a lodger to make ends meet. But as the actions of their mysterious boarder (Laird Cregar) grow increasingly suspicious, the couple wonders if they've opened their home to a killer. Based on the novel by Marie Belloc Lowndes, director John Brahm's creepy thriller also stars George Sanders and Merle Oberon., The Undying Monster A scream rings out, and the residents of Hammond Hall race outside to discover the lord of the manor badly beaten and a villager fatally injured. When rumors of a werewolf family curse surface, the Hammond siblings wonder who among them will be next. James Ellison plays the Scotland Yard inspector tasked with getting to the bottom of the mystery in this atmospheric thriller directed by John Brahm and co-starring Heather Angel., Hangover Square Struggling composer George Harvey Bone (Laird Cregar) falls for Netta (Linda Darnell), a scheming dance hall singer who wants to steal his newest song. When he discovers her selfish motives, Bone flies into a rage and kills her in this classic thriller. But Bone has no memory of the crime: So dedicated is he to his craft that discordant sounds make him black out, and he doesn't realize that he's capable of such monstrous violence. Fox

Study Hell A high school teacher reaches the end of his patience with his profession and turns into a lethal murderer in Study Hell. The teacher is a former army man who draws on all his experience as a trained killer, and only the kids who have been kept in detention have any hope of stopping his bloody murder spree. MTI

Dog Bite Dog Taking place over the course of a single day, this astonishing actioner follows a sadistic Hong Kong cop as attempts to capture a young Cambodian assassin who has entered the country to kill the wife of a powerful judge. As the law enforcement officer chases his murderous prey, he becomes determined to arrest him--regardless of the consequences. Edison Chen, Sam Lee, Suet Lam star. Genius

The Sex Movie What happens when a group of co-workers from the adult entertainment industry get together for a relaxing after hours party? Naturally the conversation soon turns to sex, but quite a few personal revelations unfold as the evening progresses, making for an entertaining and sometimes startling feature film. Ariztical Entertainment

The Tripper A bunch of hippies descend on a small woodsy town for a concert, little realizing the terror that awaits them: an axe-wielding Ronald Reagan running amok in a one-man war against drugs. The sheriff (Thomas Jane) tries to control the madness but a corrupt mayor and a greedy promoter (Paul Reubens) insist the free-love festival must go on no matter how high the body count. It's a scrappy little low-budget horror indie given some star clout thanks to David Arquette (the sheriff in the Scream films) in his directorial debut. Jason Mewes (aka Jay of Jay & Silent Bob fame) is one of the more acid-happy hippies. Lukas Haas plays a doe-eyed folk-singer type who tries to stay relatively sober since his uptight new girlfriend (Jaime King) is already recovering from some previous trauma. The music is punchy (Fishbone play at the concert) and the dialogue spot-on. There's also some nifty psychedelic special effects and, of course, plenty of gore for those inclined. Fox

The Initiation of Sarah Sarah's (Mika Boorem) mysterious powers have always been a bone of contention between her and her non-magical twin, Lindsey (Summer Glau). And that friction only heats up when the two pledge sororities and find themselves drawn into an ancient battle between good and evil. Soon, the sisters are locked in a fight for their lives that threatens to drive them apart or worse in this spine-chilling thriller. Fox

Voyage To The Bottom Of The Sea Season 3, Volume 2 Based on "Master of Disaster" Irwin Allen's 1961 movie of the same name, the 1960s television drama Voyage To The Bottom Of The Sea was one of the most popular science-fiction series of its day. The adventure series centered around the brave and fearless Captain Crane (David Hedison) as he and his seafaring crew went on dangerous missions which often found them saving the world and battling fierce underwater monsters. Disc 1 includes the following episodes: "The Brand of the Beast," "The Creature," "Death from the Past," "The Heat Monster," "The Fossil Men" and "The Mermaid." Additional Actors: Lyle Bettger, Alfred Ryder, Don Knight, Jerry Catron, Diane Webber. Disc 2 includes the following episodes: "The Mummy," "Shadowman," "No Escape from Death" and "Doomsday Island." Additional Actors: Jock Gaynor, Paul Carr. Disc 3 includes the following episodes: "The Wax Men," "Deadly Cloud" and "Destroy Seaview!." Additional Actors: Michael Dunn, Robert Carson, Arthur Space, Jerry Catron. Fox

Rey Mysterio The Biggest Little Man Packed with dozens of professional wrestler Rey Mysterio's most impressive bouts, this dynamite compilation also includes interviews and commentary by Mysterio as he reminisces about his classic showdowns in the ring. Battles include one-on-one face-offs against rivals such as Kurt Angle, Eddie Guerrero, Matt Hardy, Chris Benoit and Randy Orton, plus tag-team matches with partners Batista, Edge and Rob Van Dam. Genius / WWE

The Other Conquest Damián Delgado stars as Topiltzin, the bastard son of the Aztec emperor Moctezuma, in this award-winning historical drama from first-time helmer Salvador Carrasco. Opening with the massacre at the Great Temple of Tenochtitlan, the film follows the lone Aztec survivor -- the young scribe Topiltzin -- as he struggles to preserve his beliefs while in the custody of the Spanish troops and under the tutelage of Friar Diego (José Carlos Rodríguez). Anchor Bay
