

New On Video & DVD

Get Smart The Complete Series In this lighthearted spoof of the spy genre, Don Adams played Maxwell Smart, a secret agent who was anything but. Under the guidance of his long-suffering Chief (Edward C. Platt), and catty partner Agent 99 (Barbara Feldon), Smart spent the show bumbling his way through the conspiracies of KAOS and saving the day despite himself. Smart never fails to save the day, typically thanks to his own dumb luck and 99's skills. Created by Mel Brooks and Buck Henry, the series was marked by the pair's vaudevillian dialogue, shrewd satire, and flawless grasp of the absurd. The show's trapdoor telephone booth, phone shoe, and brassy theme song remain indelible pieces of classic television. Includes all 5 seasons, 138 episodes and over 8 hours of bonus material digitally restored and re-mastered! Bonus features include: Bonus Henry interview, Barbara Feldon interview, Don Adams 75th birthday roast, audio commentaries from Mel Brooks and much more!

Season 1 this Emmy-winning spoof of the spy genre stars Don Adams as bumbling operative Maxwell Smart, who aided by shapely Agent 99 (Barbara Feldon) must outwit the dastardly KAOS organization. Despite his ineptness with the gadgets at his disposal, clueless Max invariably foils the baddies, but if he needs help, his boss (Edward Platt) is only a shoe-phone call away. First season guests include Leonard Nimoy. Disc 1 includes episodes: "Mr. Big," "Diplomat's Daughter," "School Days," "Our Man in Toyland," "Now You See Him...Now You Don't," "Washington 4, Indians 3," "KAOS in Control" and "The Day Smart Turned Chicken." Disc 2 includes the following episodes: "Satan Place," "Our Man in Leotards," "Too Many Chiefs," "My Nephew the Spy," "Aboard the Orient Express," "Weekend Vampire," "Survival of the Fattest" and "Double Agent." Disc 3 includes the following episodes: "Kisses for KAOS," "The Dead Spy Scrawls," "Back to the Drawing Board," "All in the Mind," "Dear Diary," "Smart, the Assassin" and "I'm Only Human." Disc 4 includes the following episodes: "Stakeout on Blue Mist Mountain," "The Amazing Harry Hoo," "Hubert's Unfinished Symphony," "Ship of Spies, Part 1," "Ship of Spies, Part 2," "Shipment to Beirut" and "The Last One in is a Rotten Spy." Disc 5: Bonus Material The bonus materials for the premiere season of Get Smart include an interview with Buck Henry, the featurette: The Secret History of Get Smart, TV Appearances and Spots, Bloopers, the Get Smart Reunion Seminar in 2003 and an Interactive Bonus Feature: The Chief's Office. Season 2 Inept Control agent Maxwell Smart (Don Adams) and sharp, sexy Agent 99 (Barbara Feldon) continue to take down the bad guys of KAOS with the help of their crazy gadgets in the second season of this popular satirical spy sitcom. Max has to step in when KAOS programs Control robot Hymie (David Gauthier) to murder the Chief (Edward Platt); Max becomes the leader of the spy labor union; and Max and Agent 99 try to expose a circus smuggling ring. Disc 1 includes episodes: "Anatomy of a Lover," "Strike While the Agent is Hot," "A Spy for a Spy," "The Only Way to Die," "Maxwell Smart, Alias Jimmy Ballantine," "Casablanca," "The Decoy" and "Hoo Done It." Disc 2 includes the following episodes: "Rub-a-Dub-Dub. Three Spies in a Sub," "The Greatest Spy on Earth," "Island of the Darned," "Bronzefinger," "Perils in a Pet Shop," "The Whole Tooth and....," "Kiss of Death" and "It Takes One to Know One." Disc 3 disc includes the following episodes: "Someone Down Here Hates Me." "Cutback at Control," "The Man from YENTA," "The Mummy," "The Girls from KAOS," "Smart Fit the Battle of Jericho" and "Where-What-How-Who Am I?" Disc 4 includes the following episodes: "The Expendable Agent," "How to Succeed in the Spy Business Without Really Trying," "Appointment in Sahara," "Pussycats Galore," "A Man Called Smart, Part 1," "A Man Called Smart, Part 2" and "A Man Called Smart, Part 3." Disc 5: Bonus Material The bonus materials for the Season 2 of Get Smart include an interview with Leonard Stern, a featurette on Barbara Feldon: Real Model to Role Model, the 1967 Emmy Broadcast, Bloopers, the Get Smart Reunion Seminar in 2003, Don Adams 75th Birthday Celebration, NBC Broadcast Standards Memos and an Interactive Bonus feature: Agent 99's Purse. Season 3 In the third season of the popular spy satire, Agent Maxwell Smart (Don Adams), Agent 99 (Barbara Feldon) and the Chief (Edward Platt) have to contend with KAOS's League of Impersonators, who are imitating Control agents and causing all sorts of problems. In other episodes, Max holds a séance to obtain evidence from a deceased informant, everyone at Control is moonlighting because of cutbacks and Max goes undercover for British Control. Disc 1 includes the following segments: "The Spy Who Met Himself," "Witness for the Persecution," "Viva Smart," "The Spirit is Willing," "Maxwell Smart, Private Eye," "Supersonic Boom" and "One of Our Olives is Missing." Disc 2 includes the following segments: "When Good Fellows Get Together," "Dr. Yes.," "That Old Gang of Mine," "The Mild Ones," "Classification Dead," "The Mysterious Dr. T" and "The King Lives?" Disc 3 includes the following episodes: "The Groovy Guru," "The Little Black Book, Part 1," "The Little Black Book, Part 2," "Don't Look Back," "99 Loses Control" and "The Wax Max." Disc 4 includes the following episodes: "Operation Ridiculous," "Spy, Spy, Birdie," "Run, Robot, Run," "The Hot Line," "Die, Spy" and "The Reluctant Redhead." Disc 5: Bonus Material The bonus materials for the third season of Get Smart include an interview with director Bruce Bilson, the featurette: Spooks, Spies, Gadgets and Gizmos, TV Appearances and Spots, Bloopers, Don Rickles' Bloopers: Little Black Book, Get Smart Reunion Seminar and Interactive Bonus feature: Max's Sunbeam Tiger. Season 4 Control agents Maxwell Smart (Don Adams) and 99 (Barbara Feldon) get married in this fourth season of the spy sitcom. But when the boat blows up on their honeymoon cruise, they wind up on KAOS leader Seigfried's (Bernie Kopell) secret island. In other episodes, Max and 99 go undercover as dancers at a television station and Max uncovers corruption by watching the office across the street from his wheelchair while recovering from a gunshot wound. Disc 1 includes the following episodes: "The Impossible Mission," "Snoopy Smart vs. the Red Barron," "Closely Watched Planes," "The Secret of Sam Vittorio," "Diamonds Are a Spy's Best Friend," "The Worst Best Man" and "The Return of the Ancient Mariner." Disc 2 includes the following episodes: "With Love and Twitches," "The Lase Blazer," "The Farkas Fracas," "Temporarily Out of Control," "Schwartz's Island," "One Nation Invisible" and "Hurray for Hollywood." Disc 3 includes the following episodes: "The Day They Raided the Knights," "Tequila Mockingbird," "I Shot 86 Today," "Absorb the Greek," "To Sire, with Love, Part 1" and "To Sire, with Love, Part 2." Disc 4 includes the following episodes: "Shock It to Me," "Leadside," "Greer Window," "The Not-So-Great Escape, Part 1," "The Not-So-Great Escape, Part 2" and "A Tale of Two Tails." Disc 5: Bonus Material The bonus material for the fourth season of Get Smart include interviews with Bernie Kopell and Barbara Feldon, the featurette Code Words and Catch Phrases, TV Appearances and Spots, Bloopers and the Interactive Bonus Feature Max's Apartment. Season 5 In the fifth and final season of the popular spy spoof, Control agents Maxwell Smart (Don Adams) and 99 (Barbara Feldon) become parents when 99 has twins, and Max and the Chief (Edward Platt) attend a class for expectant fathers, believing it's a KAOS operation. Later, the Chief orders Max to propose to a beautiful woman suspected of murdering her many husbands but the wedding falls on the Smart's first anniversary and 99 isn't happy. Disc 1 includes the following episodes: "Pheasant Under Glass," "Ironhand," "Valerie of the Dolls," "Widow Often Annie," "Treasure of C. Errol Madre," "Smart Fell on Alabama" and "And Baby Makes Four, Part 1." Disc 2 includes the following episodes: "And Baby Makes Four, Part 2," "Physician Impossible," "The Apes of Rath," "Age Before Duty," "Is This Trip Necessary?," "Ice Station Siegfried" and "Moonlighting Becomes You." Disc 3 disc includes the following episodes: "House of Max, Part 1," "House of Max, Part 2," "Rebecca of Funny-Folk Farm," "The Mess of Adrian Listenger," "Witness for the Execution" and "How Green Was My Valet." Disc 4 This disc includes the following episodes: "And Only Two Ninety-Nine," "Smartacus," "What's It All About, Algie?," "Hello, Columbus - Goodbye, America," "Do I Hear a Vault?," "I Am Curiously Yellow" and "Get Smart, Again!" Disc 5: Bonus Material The bonus material for the fifth season of Get Smart includes the featurette: The Fans of Get Smart, the Don Adams Memorial in 2005, TV Appearances and Spots, Bloopers, the ultimate Get Smart Clip Reel and the Interactive bonus feature: Spy Aptitude Test. HBO

Justice League The New Frontier When Superman, Batman, and Wonder Woman join forces--not to mention Green Lantern, Martian Manhunter, and The Flash--they form the Justice League. Based on the hit graphic novel by Darwyn Cooke, this animated feature plumbs the origins of the DC Comics powerhouse. The adventure starts when the human race is threatened by a powerful creature, and only the combined forces of these superheroes can stop it. But can they overcome their differences? Instilling a Cold War atmosphere into this action-packed story adds a modern touch to The New Frontier. Providing voices for the super group is an all-star cast that includes David Boreanaz, Lucy Lawless, Kyle MacLachlan, Kyra Sedgwick, Brooke Shields, Neil Patrick Harris, and Jeremy Sisto. Warner

New On Video & DVD

Batman: Dark Knight The Dark Knight starts in the wake of Batman Begins: with the appearance of Batman (Christian Bale), Gotham City's criminal underworld is unnerved. They're also plagued by the new D.A., Harvey Dent (Aaron Eckhart), who, in his quest for justice, remains above the city's corruption. Enter a new villain, the Joker (Heath Ledger), who wants to unite the criminals for a common purpose: to kill Batman. The Dark Knight is one of the most hyped movies to date, and a lesser film would be crushed under the weight of all that expectation. Some of the publicity stems from the early death of Ledger, who turns in an excellent performance. He provides moments of humor, but this Joker is terrifying, sharing more with classic villains such as Hannibal Lecter than with his comic book predecessors. Eckhart is equally good as Dent, and Maggie Gyllenhaal deserves praise for taking over the role of Rachel Dawes from Katie Holmes. Though there's more emphasis on plot and character development than in most comic book adaptations, that doesn't mean Nolan has skimped on any of the action sequences. Each set piece is done perfectly, leaving the audience breathless. The Dark Knight is filmmaking at its best; its subject matter may be dark and depressing, but it's tough not to feel exhilarated by its artistry when the credits begin to roll. Warner

Popeye The Sailor 1941-1943 Celebrate the early years of the spinach-chomping, muscle-bound sailorman Popeye with this terrific compilation. Though he's usually willing to let things go with a malicious mutter and an intimidating squint, if he's pushed too far, watch out! And when Popeye winds up his fist, it's usually to knock out Bluto, the oaf who's always swaggering toward his lovely Olive Oyl. More than 30 black-and-white shorts covering the period 1941-1943 are included here. Disc 1 includes the episodes "Problem Pappy," "Quiet Pleeze," "Olive's Sweepstakes Ticket," "Flies Ain't Human," "Popeye Meets Rip Van Winkle," "Olive's Boithday Presink," "Child Psykolojiky," "Pest Pilot," "I'll Never Crow Again," "The Mighty Navy," "Nix on the Hypnotricks," "Kickin' the Conga Round," "Blunder Below," "Fleets of Stren'th," "Pip-Eye" and "Olive Oyl and Water Don't Mix." Disc 2 includes the episodes "Problem Pappy," "Quiet Pleeze," "Olive's Sweepstakes Ticket," "Flies Ain't Human," "Popeye Meets Rip Van Winkle," "Olive's Boithday Presink," "Child Psykolojiky," "Pest Pilot," "I'll Never Crow Again," "The Mighty Navy," "Nix on the Hypnotricks," "Kickin' the Conga Round," "Blunder Below," "Fleets of Stren'th," "Pip-Eye" and "Olive Oyl and Water Don't Mix." This two-disc set contains 32 shorts of Popeye, Olive Oyl and Bluto. Bonuses: interviews, featurettes. Warner

The Day The Earth Stood Still Beginning with a documentary style that immediately hooks the viewer, The Day The Earth Stood Still, based on the Harry Bates short story "Farewell to the Master," becomes as much a human interest story as it does a sci-fi B-movie classic. The film soberly depicts the arrival of an alien dignitary, Klaatu (Michael Rennie), who has come to earth with his deadly robot, Gort (Lock Martin), to deliver the message that earthlings must stop warring among themselves--or else. After being shot at by ignorant, panicky military guards, Klaatu is brought to a Washington, D.C., hospital, where he begs a sympathetic but frank Major White (Robert Osterloh) to gather all the world's leaders so he can tell them more specifically what he has come 250 million miles to warn them about. Losing patience, Klaatu slips into the human world, adapting a false identity and living at a boarding house where he meets a smart woman with a conscience, Helen Benson (Patricia Neal), and her inquisitive son, Bobby (Billy Gray). Both mother and son soon find themselves embroiled in the complex mystery of Klaatu, his message, and the government's witch hunt for the alien. Beginning with a documentary style that immediately hooks the viewer, The Day The Earth Stood Still, based on the Harry Bates short story "Farewell to the Master," becomes as much a human interest story as it does a sci-fi B-movie classic. The film soberly depicts the arrival of an alien dignitary, Klaatu (Michael Rennie), who has come to earth with his deadly robot, Gort (Lock Martin), to deliver the message that earthlings must stop warring among themselves--or else. After being shot at by ignorant, panicky military guards, Klaatu is brought to a Washington, D.C., hospital, where he begs a sympathetic but frank Major White (Robert Osterloh) to gather all the world's leaders so he can tell them more specifically what he has come 250 million miles to warn them about. Losing patience, Klaatu slips into the human world, adapting a false identity and living at a boarding house where he meets a smart woman with a conscience, Helen Benson (Patricia Neal), and her inquisitive son, Bobby (Billy Gray). Both mother and son soon find themselves embroiled in the complex mystery of Klaatu, his message, and the government's witch hunt for the alien. Made during the cold war--when Americans were obsessed with the destructive capabilities of the atomic bomb, The Day The Earth Stood Still, thanks to its beautiful pacing, excellent dialogue, and haunting score by Bernard Herrmann, is still a treat for contemporary audiences. Made during the cold war--when Americans were obsessed with the destructive capabilities of the atomic bomb. The Day The Earth Stood Still, thanks to its beautiful pacing, excellent dialogue, and haunting score by Bernard Herrmann, is still a treat for contemporary audiences. Fox

Swingtown Season One The 1970s were a tumultuous decade for America, and this CBS drama follows three couples as they navigate the changing cultural terrain. After moving to an upper-crust Chicago neighborhood with their children, Susan and Bruce Miller (Molly Parker and Jack Davenport) befriend their new neighbors--Tom and Trina (Grant Show and Lana Parrilla)--who they soon learn have an open marriage. This lifestyle is at odds with the attitudes of their more conservative friends, Roger and Janet Thompson (Josh Hopkins and Miriam Shor), just as it is strangely intriguing. Snazzy '70s fashion, sexual exploration, and crumbling traditional values are the main ingredients of this first season of Swingtown. Disc 1 includes the following episodes: "Pilot," "Love Will Find A Way," "Double Exposure" and "Cabin Fever." Additional Actors: Steve Shearer, Damon Carney, Nicole Swahn. Disc 2 includes the following episodes: "Go Your Own Way," "Friends With Benefits" and "Heatwave." Additional Actors: Heidi Marnhout, Judith Hoag, Jim O'Heir. Disc 3 includes the following episodes: "Puzzlerama," "Swingus Interruptus" and "Running On Empty." Additional Actors: Rachele Lefevre, Kate Norby, Rick Peters. Disc 4 includes the following episodes: "Get Down Tonight," "Surprise!" and "Take It To The Limit." Additional Actors: Caitlin Custer, Steve Seagren, Tracey Heggins. Paramount

Petticoat Junction First Season From the mind of Paul Henning, creator of The Beverly Hillbillies, came this charming sitcom that aired from 1963-70. Set in the fictional Hootersville, the show followed the goings-on at the Shady Rest Hotel, run by Kate Bradley (Bea Benaderet) and her three gorgeous daughters: blond, boy-crazy Billie Jo (Jeannine Riley); literary, intellectual Bobbie Joe (Pat Woodell); and redheaded tomboy Betty Joe (Linda Henning). The only way to reach the hotel was via the Cannonball Express, which was run by Charley Pratt (Smiley Burnette) and Floyd Smoot (Rufe Davis). The girls' Uncle Joe (Edgar Buchanan), who fancied himself the hotel's general manager but instead just generally shirked, and Sam Drucker (Frank Cady), who ran the General Store, round out the cast. This release features the first season of the classic country-themed show. Paramount

Superman Doomsday When Lexcorp accidentally unearths the intergalactic serial killer Doomsday, Superman battles the creature head on in the fight of his life...literally. The world collectively mourns their fallen hero; humanity realizes it will never feel truly safe again. Superman's enemies rejoice all but Lex Luthor, who grieves the loss in his own demented manner, setting off a chilling chain of events that even he couldn't have foreseen. Inspired by the bestselling graphic novel of all time, DC Comics' The Death of Superman, this feature-length animated adventure boasts exciting action sequences that rivals anything you've ever seen starring the Man of Steel! Actors: Adam Baldwin, Anne Heche. Warner

Transformers The Ultimate Collection Picking up where the Transformers: Armada series left off, Transformers: Energon continues to chronicle the saga of the mutating robots and their epic battles over the fate of mankind. This series follows the heroic Optimus Prime and his legion of Autobots and Omnicorns as they struggle to defeat the villainous Alpha Q, his Decepticon minion Scorponok, a new breed of Transformers known as Terrorcons, and the return of the deadly Megatron. This collection presents all 52 episodes of the series. Paramount

New On Video & DVD

Happy Days 4th Season Centered on a suburban white-bread family in 1950s Milwaukee, the series chronicled the wholesome adventures of teenager Richie Cunningham (Ron Howard), his bobby-soxer younger sister, Joanie (Erin Moran), their exasperated parents Howard (Tom Bosley) and Marion (Marion Ross), and Richie's on-the-make high school buddies, Potsie (Anson Williams) and Ralph (Donny Most). But it was the finger-snapping charm of the Cunninghams' upstairs tenant, greaser Arthur "Fonzie" Fonzarelli (Henry Winkler), that vaulted the series into the annals of television history--and ensured Fonzie's leather jacket a permanent spot in the Smithsonian collection. There's love on the horizon for the Fonz (Henry Winkler) in the fourth-season opener of this classic sitcom when daredevil Pinky Tuscedero (Roz Kelly) rides back into his life. Later, Potsie (Anson Williams) saves Fonzie from a burning garage; Richie (Ron Howard) plays house in Fonzie's apartment; Joanie (Erin Moran) tries to walk on the wild side; and Mrs. C (Marion Ross) takes a job waitressing at Arnold's. Disc 1 includes the following episodes: "Fonzie Loves Pinky: Part 1," "Fonzie Lovs Pinky: Part 2," "Fonzie Loves Pinky: Part 3," "A Mind Of Their Own," "Fonzie The Father," "Fonzie's Hero," "A Place Of His Own" and "They Shoot Fonzies, Don't They?" Additional Actors: Al Molinaro, Michael Pataki, Larry Golden, Michele Nichols. Disc 2 includes the following episodes: "The Muckrakers," "A.K.A. The Fonz," "Richie Branches Out," "Fonzie's Old Lady," "Time Capsule," "The Book of Records," "A Shot In The Dark" and "Marion Rebels." Additional Actors: Arthur Batanides, Robert Ball, Paulette Breen, Diana Hyland. Disc 3 includes the following episodes: "The Graduation: Part 1," "The Graduation: Part 2," "The Physical," "Joanie's Weird Boyfriend," "Fonz-How, Inc.," "Spunky Come Home," "Last of the Big Time Malphs" and "Fonzie's Baptism." Additional Actors: Jason Wingreen, Paul Linke, Danny Butch, Erin Blunt. Paramount/CBS

Rawhide Season 3, Vol. 2 Before he became a fixture in the Spaghetti Western genre, actor Clint Eastwood shot to fame in the 1950s and '60s television series Rawhide. Considered one of the best TV Westerns of all time, the classic show followed the adventures of a band of rovers hired to drive cattle through the lawless terrain of the 1870s Wild West while encountering both natural and man-made dangers such as anthrax and cattle rustlers. Eastwood starred as rover Rowdy Yates, the straight-arrow assistant to a tough-as-nails trail boss, Gil Favor (Eric Fleming), who also presided over trail hands Mushy (James Murdock), Quince (Steve Raines), Nolan (Sheb Wooley), and Wishbone (Paul Brinegar). Trail boss Gil Favor (Eric Fleming) continues to lead his band of Texas cowpokes as they drive the herd to market in this popular Western series that launched the career of Clint Eastwood, who stars as cowboy Rowdy Yates. In these episodes, the team deals with buyers scared off by fears of a failing bank, a new drover who's addicted to morphine, a murderous buffalo soldier and sundry other outlaws, from horse thieves to stagecoach robbers. Disc 1 includes the following episodes: "Incident At Rojo Canyon," "Incident of The Challenge," "Incident At Dragon Crossing" and "Incident Of the Night Visitor." Additional Actors: Nelson Welch, Tom Troupe, Robert Easton, Julie London, Bobby Troup, Michael Pate, Orville Sherman, John Hart, Ann Doran. Disc 2 includes the following episodes: "Incident of the Slavemaster," "Incident On the Road To Yesterday," "Incident at Superstition Prairie" and "Incident at Poco Tiempo." Additional Actors: John Erwin, Stephen Courtleigh, Andy Albin, Charles Tannen, King Calder, Stephen Joyce, Gregory Walcott. Disc 3 includes the following episodes: "Incident of the Captive," "Incident of the Buffalo Soldier," "Incident of the Broken Word" and "Incident at the Top of The World." Additional Actors: Dan Sheridan, Joe De Santis, Mercedes McCambridge, Roy Glenn, Woody Strode, Ray Montgomery, Rupert Crosse, Robert Culp, Paul Carr. Disc 4 includes the following episodes: "Incident Near the Promised Land," "Incident of the Big Blowout" and "Incident of the Fish Out of Water." Additional Actors: Don Harvey, Stafford Repp, Mary Astor, Myron Healey, Dorothy Green, Barbara Beard, Jock Gaynor, George D. Wallace, Max Mellinger, Gene Evans. Paramount/CBS

The Best of Password 1962-1967 Host Allen Ludden leads the fun in this collection of episodes from the classic 1960s game show as two teams -- each pairing a contestant with a celebrity guest -- compete to figure out the secret password by giving single-word clues. Password may have had a simple premise--contestants receive clues and use them to deduce guess the secret, one-word answer but with celebrities such as Nancy Sinatra, Woody Allen, and Sammy Davis Jr. on hand, the game never got boring! This "Best Of" collection includes 32 episodes of the classic game, featuring some of the funniest, most outrageous moments in the show's history. BCI

The World at War Hitler to Hiroshima This gripping documentary recounts the rise of the Axis powers leaders -- Adolf Hitler, Benito Mussolini and Hideki Tojo -- who tried to conquer the world, and the Allied efforts that defeated the forces of fascism but at a terrible cost. Using dramatic archival footage to chart the entire course of World War II, the film chronicles the conflict's devastating effects in Europe and across the Pacific, ending with the birth of the atomic age. BCI

Crossroads Two years into his studies at a seminary, a young Jesuit named Peter (Jacob Pitts) finds himself torn between his devotion to God and his feelings for a beautiful, free-spirited woman named Jill (Amy Acker), whom he meets while working in a soup kitchen. Filmed on location in Mobile, Ala., this drama from writer-director Murray Robinson also features Frank Langella, Alan Arkin, Orson Bean and William Lee Scott. MTI

Spiker A nightmare come to life, the Spiker is a massive pink-eyed albino and a maniac killing machine whose physical endurance borders on the fantastic. He escapes from an asylum and returns to the small town he terrorized years before, where he slashed his victims to pieces with railroad spikes and buried the bodies under the train tracks outside of town. When a group of local teens decide to camp out at an abandoned house, they are attacked by the Spiker and discover a web of terrible secrets hidden there. Frank Zagarino, Ginger Kroll, and David 'Shark' Fralick star. MTI

Kathy Smith Total Body Lift Defy gravity with Kathy Smith's Total Body Lift. Her unique combination of exercises will give you the strength, energy, and shape of a younger body. Kathy's secret is to hone in on specific muscle groups to provide the greatest results in the least amount of time. You'll tone and tighten using a series of small, concentrated muscle movements, strengthen with traditional exercises that involve a full range of motion, and create long, beautiful lines with deep stretches. Total Body Lift includes: Warm-Up: Warm up the entire body with a 5- minute routine designed to create heat in the muscles and joints. Upper Body Lift: Tone and tighten the arms, shoulders and chest using floor exercises and light weights. Leg Lift: Get long, lean legs with a series of squats, curls, and lifts using a chair for support. Butt Lift: Reshape your glutes and get that beautiful curve with a combination of standing exercises and floor work. Tummy Lift: Cinch your waistline with these abdominal and core conditioning exercises. Lions Gate

The Shuttered Room / It When his boss is crushed under a bizarre statue that mysteriously survived a devastating fire, an assistant museum curator (Roddy McDowall) launches his own investigation into its origins. Discovering that the stone sculpture is actually the Golem, a horrific monster from 16th-century Jewish myth, McDowall is able to use the creature to do his evil bidding. "It!" also stars Jill Haworth, Paul Maxwell. AKA: "Anger of the Golem," "Curse of the Golem." And, a creepy adaptation of the short story by H.P. Lovecraft and August Derleth, "The Shuttered Room" focuses on a couple who inherits an ancestral New England estate only to be tormented by the terrible secret that dwells behind a locked door that must never be opened, if the spooked locals are to be believed. Gig Young, Carol Lynley, and Oliver Reed star. Warner

Chamber of Horrors / The Brides of Fu Manchu Chamber Of Horrors: Cinematic gimmicks like the Fear Flasher and Horror Horn may foreshadow the film's chilling moments, but they couldn't overshadow its twisted storyline. In this British horror flick, a convict (Patrick O'Neal) slices off his hand to escape his shackles. Not to be deterred, he then attaches a series of deadly weapons to his stump in order to terrorize polite society. Brides Of Fun Manchu: The beautiful daughters of the world's most brilliant scientists are sequestered by Fu Manchu (Christopher Lee). The despicable henchman offers their lives in exchange for building him a death ray. With 10 young lives hanging in the balance, Scotland Yard leaps into action to save the damsels and foil the villain. Warner

Pulse 3 In this third tale, young Justine has turned sweet 16 and is as rebellious as they come. Willing to do just about anything to leave the lifeless, technologically phobic post-apocalyptic world in which she lives, Justine sees the working laptop she just found as the perfect opportunity to escape into the city of the dead, where she hopes to find her mysterious internet suitor. But Justine has no idea how deadly her trip will be. Rider Strong and Diane Goldner star in this horrific techno-thriller. Weinstein/Genius

New On Blu-Ray

007 Live and Let Die In his first turn as James Bond, Roger Moore infiltrates a gang of narcotics smugglers in voodoo-infested Jamaica. The eighth adventure in the Broccoli/Saltzman series finds James Bond doing his part to help Americans "just say no". A burly Caribbean dignitary plans to dump an enormous amount of free heroin into the American market in order to boost the number of users as quickly as possible. While attempting to thwart the villain, Bond takes time out to romance one of the evildoer's advisors, a sexy tarot-reader known as Solitaire. Snakes, sharks, crocodiles and gunmen bar the rest of the way, and 007 also proves his powerboating skills in the course of completing this harrowing mission. Special Features: Documentary Bond 1973: The Lost Documentary. Featurettes "Roger Moore as James Bond, Circa 1964 " "On Set With Roger Moore" "Inside Live And Let Die" Trailers "Ministry of Propaganda" Original Trailers and TV Spots. Interactive Features: Interactive Tour - "007 Mission Control" Interactive Guide Into the World of Live And Let Die. MGM

007 For Your Eyes Only Roger Moore makes his fifth appearance as 007 in this, the twelfth Bond film. In this outing, the renowned British double agent must locate a weapons system known as ATAC, which controls Great Britain's submarines, after it is sunk on a ship in the Ionian Sea. While he must contend with a formidable foe in the villain known as Kristatos (Glover), he does have the lovely and talented Melina (Bouquet), the daughter of a scientist killed by Kristatos, on his side. For fans craving their old favorites, Blofeld, Money Penny and Q all put in appearances. The stunts come fast and furious, most notably a breathtaking race down a ski slope at the film's opening. Additional Release Material: Audio Commentary, Sir Roger Moore (Star), Michael G Wilson (Executive Producer) and Crew, John Glen (Director) and Actors. Deleted Scenes, Featurettes: "Bond in Greece, Bond in Cortina", "Neptune's Journey", "Inside For Your Eyes Only", Music Video Sheena Easton "For Your Eyes Only". Trailers "Ministry of Propaganda" Original Trailers and TV Spots. Interactive Features: Interactive Tour - "007 Mission Control" Interactive Guide Into the World of For Your Eyes Only. MGM

007 From Russia With Love Secret agent James Bond battles the all-enveloping tentacles of an international crime syndicate called Spectre. The organization's mad plan for world supremacy unfolds with the icy efficiency of a chessmaster's complex strategy, and if they succeed, the antagonism of the cold war will be pushed from deep-freeze to the supernova of atomic oblivion. But our man Bond dispatches sultry spies, madmen, and double agents with the same coolness he displays while downing martinis and making love to beautiful blondes. In this, the second of the series, Bond travels to Turkey to meet a mysterious Russian woman who claims to have fallen in love with his photograph. She offers him a secret translating device if he will join her, although he does not know that she has been put up to the task by Rosa Klebb, formerly of the KGB, who has gone to work for SPECTRE. It's Bond's assignment to get the girl and the machine back to England--and to do it, of course, in style. Additional Release Material: Audio Commentary - "The Complete Special Features Library: Mission Dossier" Director Terence Young and Members of the Cast and Crew. Featurettes: " Ian Fleming and Raymond Chandler", "Harry Saltzman: Showman ", "Ian Fleming on Desert Island Discs", "Inside From Russia With Love", Interview Ian Fleming: The CBC Interview. Trailers "Ministry of Propaganda" Original Trailers and TV Spots. Interactive Features: Interactive Tour "007 Mission Control" Interactive Guide Into the World of From Russia With Love. MGM

007 Thunderball Based on Ian Fleming's 1961 novel. Here's 007 at his best. The fourth film in the Bond series. Terrorist mastermind Emilio Largo hijacks two nuclear weapons and has his sights set on a blackmail payday of global proportions- unless James Bond (Sean Connery) can stop him! Thunderball gets the Special Edition treatment with commentary by director Terence Young and two making-of featurettes. An action classic that'll move and thrill you, Thunderball is one of the best of the franchise. Additional Release Material: Audio Commentary. "The Complete Special Features Library: Mission Dossier" Featuring Director Terence Young and Others, Peter Hunt (Editor), John Hopkins (Writer) and Others. Bonus Shorts "The Incredible World of James Bond Original 1965 NBC Television Special" "A Child's Guide to Blowing Up a Motor Car 1965 Ford Promotional Film On Location With Ken Adam" Featurettes: "The Making of Thunderball", "Bill Saitor: The Rocket Man Movies ", "The Thunderball Phenomenon", "The Secret History of Thunderball", "Selling Bonds - Original 1965 Television Advertisements ", "Thunderball Boat Show Reel ". Trailers "Ministry of Propaganda", Original Trailers and TV Spots. Interactive Features: Interactive Tour "007 Mission Control" Interactive Guide Into the World of Thunderball. MGM

Home Alone Eight year old Kevin MacAllister (Macaulay Culkin) gets lost in the shuffle as his large, upper-middle class suburban family rushes to make a plane that will ferry them off to their Christmas vacation in France; Kevin, having been banished to an attic room as punishment, is subsequently forgotten. At first this is a dream come true, as for the first time in his young life he has no one to answer to but himself, and he takes full advantage of his newfound freedom, eating junk food and watching late-night horror flicks. But when the bumbling Wet Bandits Harry (Joe Pesci) and Marv (Daniel Stern) target his house for a robbery, Kevin must step up to defend his home; he sets a maze of booby traps so elaborate that only an eight year old imagination could concoct them. Ultimately, Kevin learns the importance of family during the holidays in a touching reunion with his clan that is highlighted by the film's amazing original score, which was nominated for an Academy Award. Additional Release Material: Audio Commentary Director Chris Columbus and Star Macaulay Culkin. Behind the Scenes Bloopers Reel, Mac Cam: Behind the Scenes with Macaulay Culkin Deleted Scenes (15). Featurettes 1990 Press Featurette The Making of Home Alone, How to Burglar-Proof Your Home: The Stunts of Home Alone, Home Alone Around the World, Where's Buzz Now?, Angels with Filthy Soul & Trailers. Fox

Jingle All The Way Arnold Schwarzenegger stars as Howard Langston, an overworked mattress salesman who has been neglecting his family of late; in an attempt to redeem himself, he promises his son whatever he wants for Christmas. Turns out that his heart's desire is a TurboMan doll, coveted by every other kid this year as well, and Howard quickly forgets about his promise until Christmas Eve. Unfortunately, all the stores are already sold out, and Howard embarks upon a wild goose chase throughout the streets of Minneapolis, encountering some wacky characters along the way. These include a postal worker of questionable sanity (Sinbad), a ticket-happy police officer (Robert Conrad), and a con-artist Santa Claus (James Belushi). As Howard's hunt drags on, his bachelor neighbor (Phil Hartman) starts to move in on his wife (Rita Wilson). Disc 1 Disc 1: Jingle All The Way Extended version Additional Release Material: Deleted Scenes (6), Featurettes The Making of a Hero, Super Kids, Turbo Man Behind the Mask Trailer. Fox

In The Name of the King: A Dungeon Siege Tale Is a fantasy-adventure based on a popular video game series, Dungeon Siege. The film follows the simple but heroic and fearless Farmer, portrayed by Jason Statham, as he gets caught up in the brink-of-war tensions of King Konraid (Burt Reynolds), his back-stabbing nephew Duke Fallow (Matthew Lillard), and the evil wizard, Gallian (Ray Liotta). The film features similar plot-points to the critically acclaimed The Lord Of The Rings trilogy (2001-2003), including a sinister beastly army parallel to LOTR's orcs of Mordor, called the Krugs, responsible for killing members of Farmer's family and kidnapping his wife, Solana (Claire Forlani). High-adventure follows, as Farmer, and his brother-in-law Bastian (Will Sanderson) and friend Norick (Ron Perlman) pursue the Krugs, which lead them to a vast underground lair of enslaved humans, orchestrated by Gallian, as he seeks to create and rule a hellish underworld with magic and mysticism. The film also includes John Rhys-Davis as Merick, a noble wizard, and the King's closest confidante and spiritual healer; and Leelee Sobieski as Merick's daughter, who as the scorned lover of Gallian, has put the kingdom at great risk. Although some of the all-star cast seems a bit out of place in a sword-and-sorcerer epic, video game fans won't mind much as the majority of the two-hour film contains nonstop action and intriguing fantasy characters. Fox