Criminal Minds Season 4 This popular show follows a group of FBI agents as they go inside the minds of vicious murderers. Tony Award winner Joe Mantegna stars as David Rossi, an original founder of the Behavioral Analysis Unit who returned to action as a profiler in the series' third season. In addition to Mantegna, Criminal Minds stars Thomas Gibson as the group's leader. Solving mysteries by delving into the psychology of serial killers and terrorists, each of the group's members are able to offer special insight into specific cases: Derek Morgan (Shemar Moore) helps to solve crimes of obsession; Penelope Garcia (Kirsten Vangsness) employs her computer skills to gather clues; and Spencer Reid (Matthew Gray Gubler) uses his considerable intelligence to crack cases, despite his substandard social skills. Offering insight into both real and fictional crimes, this show is an essential for drama devotees. This collection presents the complete fourth season. Paramount/CBS

Harper's Island A group of friends visits a secluded island off the coast of Washington for a destination wedding -- but the festivities are cut short by murder, and the guests realize they are trapped with the killer in this mystery series. The murderer claims a new victim in each episode and everyone is a suspect, forcing the survivors to figure out who is behind the sinister plot, and how they can get back to the mainland alive. Paramount

Brotherhood The Final Season The Showtime original series Brotherhood spins the well-worn crime genre with this Cain-and-Abel story of two brothers on opposite sides of the law. Based on the real-life case of the Bulger brothers, the series takes place in an Irish-American, working-class neighborhood of Providence, Rhode Island, known as The Hill. There, Tommy Caffee (Jason Clarke) is a straightlaced, up-and-coming politician while his brother, Michael (Jason Isaacs), aspires to be the biggest crime boss in the gangster underworld. Their equally cutthroat occupations have more in common than they might think. A taut character study punctuated by scenes of Sopranos like violence, Brotherhood's final season is presented in its entirety with this collection. Showtime

The Game 1st Season One of two football-themed series of the 2006-07 TV season, CW's The Game is a spin-off of the old WB network's long-running Girlfriends. Tia Mowry stars as Melanie Barnett, a Johns Hopkins med student who transferred to a smaller college in San Diego, California, the better to be near her football-player boyfriend, Derwin Davis (Pooch Hall), a member of the "San Diego Sabers." Though not technically a "football wife," Melanie soon became an honorary member of that hearty sorority, quickly learning the ins and outs of NFL protocol and intrigue. Refreshingly, she refused to be merely Derwin's "arm ornament," remaining her own person with her own ambitions and dealing with the other football players on her level rather than theirs. Melanie's best friend is Tasha Mack (Wendy Raquel Robinson), the single mother and self-appointed business manager of her irresponsible quarterback son, Malick Wright (Hosea Chanchez). Also on deck are interracial couple Kelly and Jason Pitts (Brittany Daniel, Coby Bell); as the white "trophy wife" of a black player, Kelly spent much of her time overcoming the prejudice of certain other Sabers and coping with her cheapskate (and possibly unfaithful) husband. This release features the dramedy's first season in its entirety. Paramount/CBS

Ghost Whisper 4th Season Like a small-screen version of The Sixth Sense, CBS's popular television series Ghost Whisperer is a supernatural drama of the paranormal. Executive produced by real-life medium and author James Van Praagh, the series centers around a small-town antiques-store owner, Melinda Gordon (Jennifer Love Hewitt), who realizes she has the ability to communicate with ghosts. Melinda puts her unique skills to work by helping the dead find emotional closure while depending on her paramedic husband, Jim Clancy (David Conrad, Roswell), her new friend Delia Banks (Camryn Manheim), and Professor Rick Payne (Jay Mohr), an expert in the occult, for moral support. The series' complete fourth season is presented in this collection. Paramount/CBS

Taxi 4th Season Taxi debuted in 1978 and quickly worked its way into the pantheon of sitcom classics with the help of one of the finest ensemble casts in television history. Set within the confines of a dingy parking garage, the series chronicled the ups and downs of an assortment of endearingly eccentric New York City cabbies--veteran driver Alex (Judd Hirsch), single mother Elaine (Marilyn Henner), struggling boxer Tony (Tony Danza), spaced-out minister Reverend Jim (Christopher Lloyd), and, most indelibly, immigrant mechanic Latka (the brilliant Andy Kaufman)--all lorded over by the acid-tongued barbs of diminutive taxi dispatcher Louie De Palma (Danny DeVito). This release includes all 24 episodes of season four, including the two-part finale, "The Road Not Taken." Paramount/CBS

Assassination of a High School President Think Chinatown for the teenage set. While investigating the theft of his Catholic high school's SAT exams, sophomore newspaper reporter Bobby Funke (Reece Thompson) uncovers an even bigger conspiracy. But will anyone believe him when he accuses the class president? Director Brett Simon's comic noir co-stars Mischa Barton and Bruce Willis as the unbalanced Principal Kirkpatrick, a shell-shocked Desert Storm veteran. Sony

Six: The Mark Unleashed David White and Kevin Downes play two political prisoners who are detained under a brutal dictator who has turned the world into an Orwellian wasteland devoid of freedom, privacy, and choice. A Community Police Force follows the every move of every citizen and to disobey would be to die. The two meet a mysterious stranger (Stephen Baldwin) who helps them escape and fills them in on what they've missed during their imprisonment: CPF agents have struck a deal with an inmate (Jeffrey Dean Morgan) that grants his life for the betrayal of Christian renegades. The three must now form an alliance with the most wanted renegade and the leader of the resistance movement (Cosimo Michael); the fate of the world will be determined by their success or failure. Sony

Mercy Streets is a Christian story of twin brothers John (David White) and Jeremiah (David White) who seem to be total opposites. John is a con man who has recently been released from prison and is trying to forget his past. Jeremiah is a minister who has lost his motivation and most of his faith. The two are separated by hate and misunderstanding, that is, until John decides to do one last crime and accidentally sweeps Jeremiah into the mess. United again, both fighting for their lives, they look to God for help and forgiveness. Sony

Barney Sing & Dance with Barney Come celebrate with Barney in this unique tribute to his first ten years. Barney's planned a very special sing along party and invited many of his friends, "old" and "new." The group enjoys singing their all-time favorites, while being transported to magical places (a farm, a campsite in the woods and a storybook land). It's over 55 minutes of singing and dancing to 27 of Barney's favorite melodies. With special reunion appearances by Kathy, Michael, Tasha, Min and Jason, this is a celebration no Barney fan will want to miss. Hit Entertainment

The Da Vinci Detective This documentary follows Italian scientist Dr. Maurizio Seracini as brings sophisticated technology to art world in order to solve a bona fide mystery surrounding Leonardo da Vinci: the location of his long-lost fresco The Battle of Anghiari. As Seracini uses advanced imaging techniques to close in on his prize, he also makes a surprising discovery about another da Vinci painting, The Adoration of the Magi. Smithsonian

Booker A spin-off from the late 1980s/early '90s smash-hit series "21 Jump Street," this drama follows former Jump Street member Dennis Booker (Richard Grieco), who now investigates suspicious insurance claims for a Japanese corporation based in Vancouver. Detesting authority, Booker gets in trouble by not following the rules and for taking cases for family and friends instead of the work he's been hired to do. Marcia Strassman co-stars. Mill Creek
