

New On DVD & Blu-Ray

Just Go With It haunt him. Danny (Adam Sandler) has a unique approach to picking up women -- in order to break the ice and gain their sympathy, he pretends to be stuck in an unhappy marriage. The instant he brandishes his wedding ring, the deal is all but cinched. But when Danny finally meets a woman (Brooklyn Decker) that he really would want to marry, he abandons his usual approach for something a bit more subtle. Incredibly, it works. But when she discovers the wedding band that he used to use as a pick-up prop, Danny attempts to cover his tracks by falling back on his tried-and-true divorce line. Unfortunately for Danny, the plan backfires when his new girlfriend asks to meet his future ex. Desperate, Danny recruits his office manager, Katherine (Jennifer Aniston), to validate his ruse by posing as his current wife. Before long, the lies are snowballing, and by the time Katherine's kids get involved and everyone comes together for a trip to Hawaii, it's not a matter of if Danny's plan will fall through, but when. Sony

Waiting For Forever A lonely man devotes his life to being near his childhood friend, a failed Hollywood actress looking to start a new life while caring for her ailing father, in this romantic drama starring Tom Sturridge and Rachel Bilson. Growing up, Emma (Bilson) and Will (Sturridge) were inseparable. When Emma moved out to Hollywood she forgot about Will. But Will never forgot Emma; as far as he's concerned, they're just two soul mates separated by distance. These days, Will just drifts through life while trying to be as close to Emma as possible, earning enough money to stay well fed by performing on the streets. When Emma's father falls ill, she turns her back on Hollywood and returns home to take care of him while reevaluating her hectic love life, rediscovering a kindred spirit in the process. Fox

Death Hunter When his wife is abducted by a group of blood-thirsty Vampires, John Croix is left to die in a forgotten region of the desert. It is here where an unspeakable evil exists. Now, by no choice of his own, Croix will come face-to-face with the most terrifying creatures of the night. Still a man, but possessing all the strength and power of a werewolf when the moon is out, Croix becomes a reluctant hero for mankind when he learns that his wife may still be alive. Croix sets out on a mission to rescue his wife - venturing deeper and deeper into the Vampire's lair- in his quest to save her before she is lost to the world of the undead forever. Stars Sam McConkey, Paulino Hemmer, Mike Lawler, Shari Wiedmann, Rich Williams MTI

Talking Baseball Atlanta Braves Real nostalgia is achieved with Del Crandall, a member of the original Boston Braves and Milwaukee Braves before the franchise moved to Atlanta; three 300-game-winning pitchers Tom Glavine and Greg Maddux who pitched together and comprised one of the greatest starting rotations in the history of baseball and legendary knuckleballer Phil Niekro, who, along with his brother, combined to win more games than any other brother combo in baseball history; followed by David Justice, a member of the powerful '90s Braves and World Series champion. Talking Baseball

Talking Baseball Cincinnati Reds Every Reds fan will revel in the interviews of Sparky Anderson (1934 -2010), manager of the Big Red Machine world series champion who dominated the 1970s; Tony Perez, the Hall of Famer who spent 16 years in Cincinnati and was the centerpiece of the great '60s teams and then the Big Red Machine of the 1970s; George Foster, the incredible home run hitter on the Reds teams; and Barry Larkin, the wondrous and beloved shortstop who played all 19 seasons with the Reds, leading them to the 1990 World Series. Talking Baseball

Blue Crush 2 A champion surfer who never met a wave she couldn't conquer, California teen Dana (Sasha Jackson) leaves Beverly Hills behind for the adventure of a lifetime, and makes some remarkable new friends along the way. Dana's late mother grew up in South Africa, and kept a detailed diary about her childhood experiences. Inspired by her mother's words, the privileged teen rejects her father's requests to enroll in college, instead booking a flight to South Africa to walk the beaches she has read about since childhood. Her mother's dream was to surf the waves of Jeffreys Bay, and with a little help from some fun-loving friends, Dana prepares to fill in the missing chapter of the book that guides her voyage. Universal

The Comancheros John Wayne is a Texas Ranger in this rollicking, good humored western, assigned to bring an arms-running gang to justice. After Wayne arrests one of the criminals, matters are complicated when they wander into an area controlled by the Comancheros: a group of Anglos aiding the warring Comanche Indians. Based on the novel by Paul I. Wellman, The Comancheros was the last film for director Michael Curtiz. Fox

Legend of the Fist: The Return of Chen Zhen A celebrated Chinese hero returns to the mainland seven years after the fight that made him a myth, and assumes the identity of a masked crusader in order to expose the clandestine alliance between the Japanese and the mafia, and to procure a vital assassination list in this epic action thriller from Infernal Affairs director Andy Lau. At the height of the Warlord Era, China is being torn apart through internal conflict, allowing Japanese forces to gain a foothold in Northern Shanghai. His mentor murdered by Japanese troops, Chinese avenger Chen Zhen (Donnie Yen) single-handedly defeats an entire dojo full of enemy combatants amidst a blinding shower of bullets. Though his body is never recovered, Chen Zhen is presumed to have perished in the fight. Flash forward seven years, when high-ranking Japanese officials rub elbows with ruthless gangsters in the lavish Casablanca nightclub as the impoverished masses starve in the streets. Suddenly, into the Shanghai social scene steps a wealthy entrepreneur named "Ku" (also Yen), whose obvious affluence quickly gains him an audience with the most powerful mob boss in town. Little do the local criminal masterminds realize it's all an elaborate ruse; by day Ku uses his relationship with the formidable gangster to gather intelligence on the collusion between the Chinese underworld and the Japanese military, and by night he dons a mask in order to fight the powers attempting to oppress his people. But the closer Ku grows to scorching beauty Kiki (Shu Qi), the more he risks blowing his cover. Later, when Ku discovers evidence of a top-secret Japanese hit list that threatens to shift the balance of power in their favor, he prepares to risk his life in a fight that could alter the future of an entire nation, and give the downtrodden masses hope for a better future. Well Go USA

New On DVD & Blu-Ray

Platoon In Platoon, Oliver Stone draws on his experience as an infantryman in Vietnam to convey the brutality of guerrilla warfare: the heat of the jungle, the brushes with such wildlife as snakes and leeches, and, most powerfully, the presence of the unseen enemy. Charlie Sheen stars as Chris, a raw recruit, or "new meat," who serves as the film's narrator. At first he wilts under the rigorous conditions of jungle life, freezes up in a fire fight, and wonders whether he'll be able to survive. But he gradually adapts and, as time goes by, begins to see that the platoon is divided into two groups. One consists of lifers, juicers, and subintelligent whites, the other of blacks and heads. Sgt. Barnes, a combat-loving burnout (Tom Berenger), is the informal leader of the lifers, and Sgt. Elias, a free spirit (Willem Dafoe), leads the latter group. When the platoon takes some gruesome losses, an enraged Barnes kills some Vietnamese and orders the burning of their village, outraging the temporarily absent Elias. As the conflict between these two reaches its tragic climax, Chris must decide what he really values. Widely regarded as one of the finest war films ever made, Platoon reflects not only the United States' division over Vietnam but the timeless truths of battle: terror, disorientation, exhilaration, and horrible loss. MGM

AC/DC Let There Be Rock The only movie powered by AC/DC. This legendary concert film, covering a 1979 Paris concert during the Australian heavy metal band's "Highway To Hell" tour showcases the power and precision that the quintet bring to vicious rockers like "Whole Lotta Rosie" and "Let There Be Rock." Pixieish lead guitarist Angus Young, attired in his trademark school-boy's uniform, takes center stage with his energetic antics and frenetic solos, while the rest of the band crank out their minimalist boogie with quiet determination. Interview segments and humorous backstage footage show another side to the thuggish musicians, especially AC/DC's flamboyant lead singer Bon Scott, who died two months after this filmed concert. Special Features DTS-HD 5.1 (English) Loud, Locked & Loaded: The Rites of Rock: Seasoned rockers, actors and journalists recollect their rite of passage as early witnesses to the raw, bone rattling rock of AC/DC. AC/DC: The Bedrock of Riff: No one has mastered the basic DNA of Riff Rock as successfully as AC/DC. Explore Angus and Malcolm Young's telepathic groove and the four-on-the-floor swing of Mark Rudd. Angus Young: A True Guitar Monster: Angus Young's transformation from diminutive schoolboy to raging rock monster electrifies the masses. Find out what makes this time bomb tick. Bon Scott: The Pirate of Rock 'n' Roll: Bon Scott was the ringleader of the AC/DC circus, balancing his screaming sexuality with a rakish charm. Get a glimpse into the life of a classic Rock 'n' Roll pirate. AC/DC: A Rock Solid Legacy: From bar band to arena rock, AC/DC stuck to their guns and shot their way to the top. Fellow rockers and journalists chart AC/DC's ascent into the Pantheon of Rock Gods in rock 'n' roll history. BD Playlist: your favorite songs in your favorite order 32-page tribute book by rock journalist Anthony Bozza (author of Why AC/DC Matters Exclusive souvenir guitar pick Collector card set featuring concert photos. Warner

Another Year British filmmaker Mike Leigh delivers another emotionally honest portrait of ordinary people trying to make sense of their lives in this comedy drama. Tom (Jim Broadbent) and Gerri (Ruth Sheen) are a couple who are drifting past middle age into their sixties; he's a geologist and she's a psychotherapist. Tom and Gerri have a stable and happy marriage and a grown son, Joe (Oliver Maltman), an activist lawyer who hasn't settled down yet, much to his mother's chagrin. One of Gerri's co-workers and close friends is Mary (Lesley Manville), who puts up a facade of desperate good cheer despite the fact she's been very lonely since her husband left her and has been drowning her anxieties in wine. Gerri has unsuccessfully tried to fix Mary up with Tom's sloppy but good natured pal Ken (Peter Wight), and she's startled when Mary begins openly flirting with Joe, more than 20 years her junior. Mary's troubles only grow worse when she stops by Tom and Gerri's place only to be introduced to Katie (Karina Fernandez), Joe's new girlfriend Sony

Diary of a Wimpy Kid: Rodrick Rules Astro Boy director David Bowers helms the follow-up film to 2010's big-screen adaptation of Jeff Kinney's acclaimed Diary Of A Wimpy Kid comic novels in this Fox 2000 production. As Greg Heffley (Zachary Gordon) braves his first days of seventh grade, his parents (Steve Zahn and Rachael Harris) make a noble yet ill-advised attempt to help him forge a stronger bond with his mischievous older brother, Rodrick (Devon Bostick), who takes twisted delight in tormenting his unsuspecting younger sibling at every opportunity. Fox

Benn & Teller Bullshit Season 8 Comedy duo Penn & Teller are primarily known for revealing the secrets behind magicians and magic tricks. But in their made-for-cable television series the provocateurs train their satiric sights on debunking some of the most dearly-held notions of popular culture. Utilizing research hidden cameras and healthy doses of humor and skepticism Penn & Teller set out to expose the fakery behind TV psychics alien abductions end-of-the-world theories bottled water and secondhand smoke among other things. Disc 1 disc includes the following episodes: "Cheerleaders," "Fast Food," "Martial Arts," "Teen Sex," "Easy Money" and "Area 51." Disc. 2 includes the following episodes: "Criminal Justice," "Old People," "Self-Esteem" and "Vaccinations." Showtime

Undertow A man struggles to come to terms with the unexpected consequences of a secret love in this drama from director Javier Fuentes-León. Miguel (Cristian Mercado) supports himself and his family as a fisherman in a small town on the coast of Peru. Miguel is happily married to Mariela (Tatiana Astengo), who is pregnant with their first child, and the couple are well respected in their community and active in the local church. But there's a side of Miguel that he keeps hidden from most people Miguel is also in love with Santiago (Manolo Cardona), an artist who is spending time in the village, and the two have secretly been having an affair. Santiago drowns one evening while swimming, and his ghost visits Miguel, telling him that his spirit will not know peace until Miguel finds the courage to tell the community about their love. While some suspect Miguel is hiding something when nude paintings of him are found in Santiago's home, Miguel isn't sure where to find the courage to confess his bisexuality to his wife and neighbors Undertow was an official selection in World Cinema program the 2010 Sundance Film Festival, where it received the Audience Award for Best World Dramatic Feature. Wolfe

New On DVD & Blu-Ray

Vanishing on 7th Street Four survivors of a mysterious plague of darkness flee the shadows that seem to have consumed all of society in this thriller from Session 9 director Brad Anderson. Detroit has fallen ominously silent; the power to the city appears to have been cut off, and the streets are littered with the clothes of people whose bodies are nowhere to be found. Desperate and terrified, movie-theater projectionist Paul (John Leguizamo) seeks shelter with television news reporter Luke (Hayden Christensen), frightened physical therapist Rosemary (Thandie Newton), and trigger-happy 12-year-old James (Jacob Latimore) in an inner-city bar owned by James' mother, who has apparently vanished along with the rest of humanity. Momentarily safe thanks to a power generator that keeps the clutching shadows at bay, the group ponders how to stay alive as Rosemary fears what fate befell her missing infant son, and Luke conceives a plan to seek out his estranged wife in Chicago. When the lights start to flicker, the fight for their lives begins.

Magnolia

Fort Bowie There's a measure of sympathy for the Apaches at the beginning of Fort Bowie. Under the tyrannical rule of ambitious Major Wharton (P. Ian Douglas), a cavalry detachment slaughters a band of Apache who've arrived with the intention of surrendering. A counterattack is inevitable, but before this happens the story is sidetracked by the jealous behavior of Colonel Garrett (Kent Taylor). When stalwart young Captain Thompson (Ben Johnson) resists the romantic overtures of Garrett's wife Allison (Jan Harrison), she screams "Rape!" and Thompson finds himself facing court-martial and execution. This plot strand and several others are resolved after the Cavalry is forced to attack its own fort following an Apache takeover.

MGM

Geronimo Walter Hill directs John Milius's script depicting a revisionist perspective on the "Geronimo Campaign" and how Geronimo, with 34 men, managed to elude 5000 U.S. cavalry men between 1885 and 1886 before his surrender at the Canyon of the Skeletons in September 1886. The film centers upon Charles Gatewood (Jason Patric), the U.S. Cavalry lieutenant who is charged with capturing the elusive Apache leader. Gatewood is torn by a grudging respect for Geronimo and his people and his duty to his country. But then all the white men in the film have a respect for Geronimo, even as they are trying to hunt him down and kill him. General Charles Crook (Gene Hackman), charged with overseeing the forced settlement of the Apaches on reservations, has nothing but admiration for Geronimo. MGM

Patty Hearst A newspaper heiress is kidnapped, brainwashed, and forced to join a group of terrorist bank robbers in this docudrama, based on the saga of Patricia Hearst. In 1974, Hearst (Natasha Richardson), the granddaughter of publishing tycoon William Randolph Hearst, was a student at the University of California. On February 4, members of the Symbionese Liberation Army, a radical political group, broke into the Berkeley home she shared with her boyfriend and kidnapped her. Hearst then allegedly spent 57 days locked in a closet as she was indoctrinated into the group's revolutionary beliefs by their charismatic leader, Cinque (Ving Rhames). Eventually, Hearst joined (or at least pretended to join) the SLA, adopted the name Tania and participated in a number of high-profile bank robberies. After several SLA members died in a police fire storm, Hearst and fellow members Bill and Emily Harris (William Forsythe and Frances Fisher) went on the lam and were later arrested. Although she claimed her participation in the group was a ruse carried out to protect herself from further rape, torture, and mind control, Hearst eventually served several years in prison after her 1976 conviction for bank robbery. Based on the novel Every Secret Thing, Hearst's own account of the events, Paul Schrader's film tells the story from the heiress' own viewpoint, with little in the way of conflicting evidence. MGM

Rubber The old saying about "this is where the rubber meets the road" takes on a new and sinister meaning in this black comedy from filmmaker Quentin Dupieux. An old tire appears in a California desert, and under its own power it begins rolling down the road, stopping and starting as it pleases. The notion that the tire can operate under its own power isn't half as remarkable as its other talent -- the tire has telekinetic abilities and can make things explode at will, including human heads. The evil tire goes on a killing spree after its affections for a beautiful woman (Roxane Mesquida) are thwarted, and local lawman Lt. Chad (Stephen Spinella) steps forward to investigate. Meanwhile, a handful of people aware of the tire and its actions are watching it from a safe distance until they're poisoned by a mysterious villain; one of them (Wings Hauser) manages to survive, and is looking for some revenge of his own. Magnolia

Cross A man with superhuman powers and his hard-charging team of mercenary weapons experts fight to keep the city of Los Angeles safe in this comic book-style action romp featuring Tom Sizemore, Michael Clarke Duncan, Lori Loughlin, Vinnie Jones, and Jake Busey. When Callan (Brian Austin Green) was a young boy, his father bestowed him an ancient Celtic cross that gave him incredible powers. Adopting the persona of Cross, Callan uses his abilities to fight crime. When a rash of kidnappings befalls the city of L.A., Cross and his team discover that an immortal Viking has acquired a doomsday device, and race to stop him from wiping out the entire human race. Sony

Gun Brothers Recently discharged cavalry sergeant Chad Santee (Buster Crabbe) joins his brother, Jubal (Neville Brand), and discovers that Jubal is a wanted outlaw. Unwilling to partner with him or to turn him in, Chad leaves. But jealousies draw the brothers to a deadly face off. Thinking Chad has betrayed him to lawmen, Jubal and his vengeful cohorts track Chad down. And, in a bloody confrontation, Jubal discovers the truth -- one gunshot too late. MGM

Mr. Wong Detective The first in Monogram's series starring Boris Karloff as Chinese PI James Lee Wong, this mystery finds panicked industrialist Simon Dayton (John Hamilton) begging the intellectual detective for help, but Wong can't prevent Dayton's murder the following day. Inventor Carl Roemer (John St. Polis) and Dayton's partners are the chief suspects, but while Wong investigates, he's hindered by excitable police Capt. Sam Street (Grant Withers). MGM

My Gun Is Quick Private detective Mike Hammer (Robert Bray) learns that a young prostitute he met the night before has been murdered. To avenge the girl's death, Hammer scours the underbelly of Los Angeles looking for her missing ring, which he hopes will lead him to the killer. Based on a novel by Mickey Spillane, this detective movie features brutal beatings, warring criminal gangs and valuable treasures stolen by the Nazis. MGM

New On DVD & Blu-Ray

White Collar Season 2 Compelling characters and thrilling plot twists make "White Collar" one of television's slickest, sexiest shows! Matt Bomer returns as sophisticated conman Neal Caffrey, who teams up with FBI Agent Peter Burke (Tim DeKay) to investigate an intriguing array of crimes ranging from extortion to murder. Now, reeling from the death of his girlfriend, Neal struggles to unlock the secret behind a mysterious music box and find Kate's killer, even as his partnership with Peter begins to crumble. Featuring exclusive bonus footage and extras including a spotlight on fan-favorite Mozzie, behind-the-scenes with Matt Bomer, more. In Season 2 of the hit USA Network series, somewhat reformed con man Neal Caffrey (Matthew Bomer) continues to use his criminal past and detailed knowledge of the finer things in life to assist FBI agent Peter Burke (Tim DeKay) in capturing an array of white-collar crooks. Neal and Mozzie (Willie Garson) try to uncover what exactly happened to Neal's girlfriend, Kate, in the events that took place at the end of Season One. Fox

Burn Notice Season 4 Explosive thrills, great stories and wry humor make Season Four of Burn Notice the show's hottest season yet! Master-spy Michael Westen is back, and this time, he's joined by Jesse Porter, a no-nonsense counter-intelligence expert who has been burned himself. Along with go-to guy Sam and the dangerously sexy Fiona, the team takes on a barrage of outlaw biker gangs, drug dealers and a worldwide terrorist threat. As tension mounts, uneasy alliances are forged, friendships are tested, and a lethal game unfolds when Jesse vows to find and kill the one who burned him. In Season 4 Spook-turned-sleuth Michael Westen (Jeffrey Donovan) continues to explore the dark side of sun-soaked Miami now joined by counter-intelligence pro Jesse Garcia (Coby Bell) in the fourth season of this popular espionage series. Michael is pressured into killing government agents, looks for a kidnapped girl, monitors chemical weapons, helps Nate with a drug-infused job and attempts to stop a revenge-driven lawyer. Fox

Stargate: Universe Season 2 This edgy hit returns for a second season of deep-space action and intrigue as Dr. Rush (Robert Carlyle), Tamara Johansen (Alaina Huffman) and other passengers trapped aboard the mysterious spacecraft Destiny try to unravel the secrets of the vessel's Stargate. As their hidden agendas begin to clash, the scientists, soldiers and civilians must also contend with members of the Lucian Alliance and other aliens. MGM

Keaton's Cop Police partners Mike (Lee Majors) and Jake (Don Rickles) get pulled into a seemingly humdrum assignment when they're asked to keep an eye on aging ex-gangster Louis Keaton (Abe Vigoda), who's currently holed up inside a retirement home for elderly seniors. But polar opposites Keaton and Mike are forced to get even closer when Jake falls victim to the hired hitman who's got a target on Keaton's back. MGM Season of the Witch A noble knight battles a wicked witch in a bid to save humanity from an ancient evil in this supernatural thriller starring Nicolas Cage and Ron Perlman. Upon returning to his home in Europe, crusading knight Behmen (Cage) finds his faith beginning to falter due to the brutality he's witnessed on the battlefield. The Black Plague has decimated the countryside, forcing Behmen and his loyal companion, Felson (Perlman), to seek sustenance and supplies at the Palace of Marburg. They're weary from war, but they're about to discover that their struggle is just beginning.

Commanded by the moribund Cardinal to deliver a suspected witch to the abbey where her powers can be abolished, Behman accepts the assignment under the condition that the young peasant girl will receive a fair trial. The church believes the girl to be the one responsible for the Black Plague, and they may be right, too. As the two men and a small group of chaperones set out on their arduous mission, they quickly realize that their young charge is something more than human, and that they're about to face an evil beyond human comprehension. Fox

Defiance When a ship worker named Tommy Gamble (Jan Michael Vincent) shows up in one of New York's tougher neighborhoods, nobody notices aside from his kind hearted neighbor Marsha (Theresa Saldana). That changes when he draws the attention of Angel (Rudy Ramos), who leads the gang the Souls, by standing up to the gang. Tommy tries to keep to himself and just works on his art until the local guys, led by Carmine (Danny Aiello) decide they are going to take their neighborhood back. Soon Tommy finds himself in the middle of a neighborhood turf war where he has to fight for those he is starting to care about. MGM

Kingdom of War Part 1 & 2 An epic historical action film about King Naresuan the Great, who liberated the Siamese from the control of Burma, changing the destiny of a nation. Part I depicts Naresuan's boyhood, when he was taken hostage by Burmese King Bayinnaung to keep the vassal Ayutthaya Kingdom subservient. During this time, he was a novice Buddhist monk under the tutelage of the wise father-figure monk Sorapong Chatree. Part II portrays Naresuan as a young adult prince, already a formidable military strategist, as he leads his army on exploits against breakaway kingdoms for King Bayinnaung's successor, King Nonthabureng, and eventually breaks away to declare sovereignty for Siam. Directed by Chatrichalerm Yukol Magnolia

N-Secure A controlling businessman's crushing insecurity yields dire repercussions for his frightened girlfriend in this tense psychological thriller. David Washington (Cordell Moore) has a big bank account and a gorgeous girlfriend, but his growing self-doubt is driving him to psychosis. When David's girlfriend Robyn (Essence Atkins) flees into the arms of another man, the rejection is simply too much to take. Now, as David plots his revenge, Robyn finds that falling for the wrong guy can yield deadly repercussions. Fox

The Long Riders The notorious James-Younger gang is the most famous group of outlaws in the country, robbing banks, trains and stagecoaches with a sense of daring that makes them folk heroes throughout the land. But when the mighty Pinkerton detective agency swears to track them down, these criminals must face an awesome enemy that will stop at nothing to see them behind bars...or dead! Only through the strength of their loyalty and blood ties can the outlaws hope to survive the brutal pursuits, unexpected betrayals and blistering showdowns that mark the end of their dangerous ride. MGM